

I
A)

D) The relief camps were opened because to provide food and shelter.

2) 25,000 people were provided shelter.

B)

3) Tsunami (c)

4) in the Ocean (b)

C)

5) Useless (c)

Vocabulary

A) Poured

b) Continued

C)

a) Sufficient

b) Estimated

~~III~~

III

1) No sooner had I arrived at the station than the bus came in.

2) beside

3) A

9th

14) * The new industrial policy which is launched in 1991 promotes development of Industries and India's economic growth.

* This new policy had the main objective of providing facilities to market forces and increasing efficiency.

* The government undertook measures to improve competitiveness between various industries.

* They also increased foreign direct investment.

* They also allowed private sectors to enter into industry field by relaxing some rigid laws.

* These private sectors had advanced technology and made things implement faster than govt.

Britain.

2. As an Indian citizen could you support or reject colonisation? Give a brief account of your views. (Page-219)

- A.
- 1) As an Indian citizen I won't support colonisation.
 - 2) Due to colonisation our country's raw materials and agricultural products may be plundered by the British at cheaper rate.
 - 3) Their people will get more employment than our country. Moreover our country will suffer due to British machine - made products. (i.e.) Handloom artisans will lose their work. They will become unemployed.
 - 4) So I will reject our country to become a colony of British.

Ex III - Social-Key

I) c) Ned Ludd

2) d) 1, 4, 2, 3

3) A) Foreign trade

4) B) Spain - Mexico

5) c) Rabi

II) 6) Minimum support price

7) Mirra

8) Africa

9) 1917

10) i) (b)

ii) (a)

iii) (c)

iv) (d)

11) In intensive subsistence farming, the farmer cultivates a small plot of land using simple tools and more labour. Subsistence agriculture is the type of farming in which crops grown and consumed by the grower and his family.

12) W.B - Pg no = 327

- 13) 1. Thomas Malthus
2. Leonardo Da Vinci
3. John M.C. Adam
4. James Hargreaves